Working from the wisdom within.

04 – 05 August 2012

Stuartholme School, Brisbane, Queensland, Australia

2012 is the year to take stock and value the professional educator and teaching quality. Join with us in our focus on:

- Actively scaffolding learning.
- Building literacy and numeracy.
- Connecting to the known and the new.
- Designing tasks and testing.
- Engaging digital pedagogies.

The Conference online: www.pedagogy.org.au/conference

This conference aims to bring together local and international teachers, learners and researchers to share their knowledge and experiences through the findings of original research, workshops and snapshots of pedagogy that focus on quality teaching and real improvements in learning. It will take an evidence-based approach and stimulate professional conversations about authoritative and emerging pedagogies that are currently improving students' learning across sectors and disciplines worldwide.

Call for papers, workshops and snapshots

To submit your proposal to present a Paper (30 minutes); Workshop (60 minutes); and/or Snapshot of Pedagogy (30 minutes) on the required Proposal Form by 31 March 2012. The Proposal Form can be submitted online or can be downloaded from the Conference web site and when completed submitted by email to Shirley O'Neill at shirley@pedagogy.org.au Please note Proposal for Paper, Workshop or Snapshot of Pedagogy as appropriate on the subject line.

Notification of acceptance of proposals will be ongoing and papers will be eligible to be considered for publication in the International Journal of Pedagogies and Learning <www.e-contentmanagement.com>.

All papers submitted for publication will be double blind peer reviewed. There will be two submission deadlines for papers for publication, the first before the conference, June 01 2012, (publishable in November 2012) and the second after the conference October 15, 2012 (publishable April 2013).

The International Journal of Pedagogies and Learning aims to publish high quality research that focuses on the essence of pedagogy and learning and related issues and trends. Snapshots of Pedagogy may be submitted for publication in the Society's e-magazine "Pedagogies at work" which is available to members online. This alternative genre of an e-magazine encourages multimodal/multimedia texts (MMe-text format) that exemplify good practice.
